Many hours are spent each day at lockers, bulletin boards, drinking fountains or just standing in the halls talking. If you should walk down the corridor before school takes up in the morning or during the noon hour, you would hear conversations about clothes, exams, teachers, and coming events. All of these are of interest to Centralites.

Of Central

Pleasure Is Gained Through

Activities of everyday occurrence sped the days of Centralites in 1962-63. Voluntary tasks, prize winnings, and personal amusements affected students many times during the year. The taking of annual pictures brought smiles several days of the first semester.

WHAT WOULD OUR ANNUAL BE without pictures? Most of our pictures were taken by Jim Reeves from RSM in Bluffton.

AMBITIOUS TODAY MERV? Or perhaps this student, Mervin Mann, cleans his locker grudgingly.

CHANGING THE PROGRAM board is a task taken on by our National Honor Society. Here John Ross performs his duty.

Daily Routine

WHILE THE GIRLS LOOK ON Mr. Gerig places a prize, won by the four twirlers, into the trophy case with others there, already in position.

BUS LOADS of students arrived each morning at ACHS. Here Don Egley steps out--and with a smile on his face, too!

SYDONNA CARNALL amuses herself with a book she selects from the school library.

A SENIOR AT WORK is Annie Singleton; but this is work she enjoys. Annie gathers absentee slips from classroom doors during last period each day.

A MAKE-UP COMMITTEE helps members of the play cast apply their make-up before the acting.

Drama Club Presents Play

At Christmas the Dramatics Club presented a play to the student body. Mr. Sprunger and Mr. Allspaw directed the printing of programs, costume and make-up divisions, and props committee and instructed the cast in acting techniques. This was the first play to be witnessed by Centralites for a number of years.

CAST MEMBERS Sydonna Carnall and Kathy Michaels apply finishing touches to their appearances.

KATHY MICHAELS as a news reporter, recites lines with cast member Sydonna Carnall. Johnny Sprunger, Maris Moeschberger, and Ed Hirschy retain positions on the stage.

UNIDENTIFIABLE FRESHMEN take their assigned tasks to be initiated into the FFA chapter.

PAST MEMBERS watch as those being initiated fullfil their obligations.

SOPHOMORES PARTICIPATED in various games planned for their class party.

MIKE FUELLING and Dave Heyerly pop corn for a basketball game.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS seem to be a good place to discuss the day's activities.

Concessions Part of Routine

SELLING POP to obtain money for the senior trip is Delbert Fuchs.

SENIORS MARVIN, Jack, Dave, and Karen all help in the raising of funds.

STUDENT CAFETERIA workers fill milk glasses at lunch-time.

Cafeteria Life Affects All

GLORIA RUPERT collects lunch money from students as they enter the cafeteria.

TEACHERS AND STUDENTS wait in line in front of the cooks for their plates.

CHS Royalty Reign Supreme

QUEEN CANDIDATE Karen Rich was escorted by Ed Hirschy.

ANNIE SINGLETON was escorted to the stage by Gary Workinger.

ANGELA RAUDENBUSH carried two dozen red roses for the queen; Lynn Stucky carried the crown.

QUEEN BECKY COLLINS was crowned by Don Sharp after it was announced that he would reign as king.

CAROLYN HART'S escort for the crowning was Mike Ripley.

COURT MEMBER Althea Wulliman was escorted on the arm of Steve Schlickman.

Academics

Study is, of course, the bulk of a day at Central. Exams and daily assignments touch each and every student. The wide variety of courses offered enables Centralites to choose the subjects which interest them most. For the first time this year Spanish and Psychology were available, besides the full schedule of last year's courses.

of Study

CHS Improves with Spanish

Centralites are now offered a new subject, Spanish. The students memorized nouns, verb endings, and idioms. The subject was taught by Miss Williamson who resides in Bluffton. She has traveled to Mexico and is qualified to tell her class of the Spanish customs and places.

MARY RIOJAS AND Marilyn Vizard study a daily Spanish lesson together. Here Marilyn is pronouncing a foreign word aloud.

MISS WILLIAMSON watches as students Mary Riojas, Marilyn Vizard, Jim Rash, Carol DeVine, and Johnny Riojas translate a sentence on the blackboard.

SENIOR ENGLISH teacher, Mr. Sprunger, looks at a class problem worked by Diane Patrick for the daily assignment.

English — Our Native Tongue

READING HER literature book during class study time is Diane Raudenbush. Classmate Bev Osterman prepares to begin her work.

English courses continued to be stressed through the '62-'63 year. Mrs. Stucky, Mr. Sprunger, and Mr. Shoup taught junior high and high school students the language. Centralites studied written works through literature during the second semester.

SIX-WEEKS' EXAMS are an expected part of learning. Miss Beavers conducts a geometry test for her class.

This year more students than ever enrolled in mathematics. These courses included Geometry, Algebra I and Algebra II. Next year Trigonometry will again be available. They were all taught by Miss Beavers. Those who preferred general math to Algebra I were taught by Mr. Honaker. Geometry students were taught the fundamentals of triangles and circles; algebra students, equations and slide rule uses.

SLIDE RULES are not really as tough as they appear say Jane Kaehr, Sydonna Carnall, Wilfred Morrison and Don Stucky.

TAKING AND RECORDING the accurate weight for physics class are Sandra Teeter, Delbert Fuchs, and Harris Halvorsen, as Mr. Allspaw looks on.

MISS WILLIAMSON, Don Raudenbush, Roger Schnepp, and Marcene Gerber admire a piece of fungus brought in by Don.

The science department had a busy year at Adams Central. The freshman biology class, taught by Miss Williamson, collected insects and leaves the first semester for individual credit. Later on, they collected flowers; disected fish, frogs and starfish; and had many extra special projects. The science department consisted of chemistry and physics. These classes were taught by Mr. Allspaw. Of the things the juniors learned in chemistry, the most important was the proper procedure for chemical analysis. In the physics class, the seniors learned the revolution of forces, stresses and strains, and many other items with technical application.

Psychology Enters Central

SPEECHES BECAME an everyday thing for students like Sharlene Wagley.

Psychology and speech were offered as one semester courses at Central. First semester, psychology was taught by Mr. Haggard. Students studied the reasons lying beneath the strange actions of people. Mr. Souder taught techniques of public speaking to many sophomores and seniors.

BRENDA HAMRICK asks help from her psychology teacher for an extra-tough problem from her book.

Good Citizenship Promoted

MAP STUDY was a part of classwork to Karen Shoaf, Jack Shoaf, and Karen Rich.

A WORLD HISTORY class used a film as part of their study on this particular day.

Timed Writings Keep Us Busy

MIMEOGRAPH MACHINES PRESENT no problems to secretarial training students Ann Moser, Annie Singleton, Susan Frank, and Saundra Mattax.

Adams Central offers profitable commercial courses to those students planning to enter commercial occupations as well as those going to college. Those courses offered this year were shorthand, bookkeeping, secretarial training, and typing. The instructors and courses taught by each were as follows: Mrs. Archbold, shorthand and secretarial training; Mr. Bryan, typing and bookkeeping; and Mr. Hoopingarner, typing.

Vocational Subs Aid Future

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS get their basic training in home economics. Here Althea Wulliman, Janelle Roth, and Diane Gerber stir their next dish.

FFA LEADER DAVE Sommer promotes agriculture at Central by leading a meeting of its chapter.

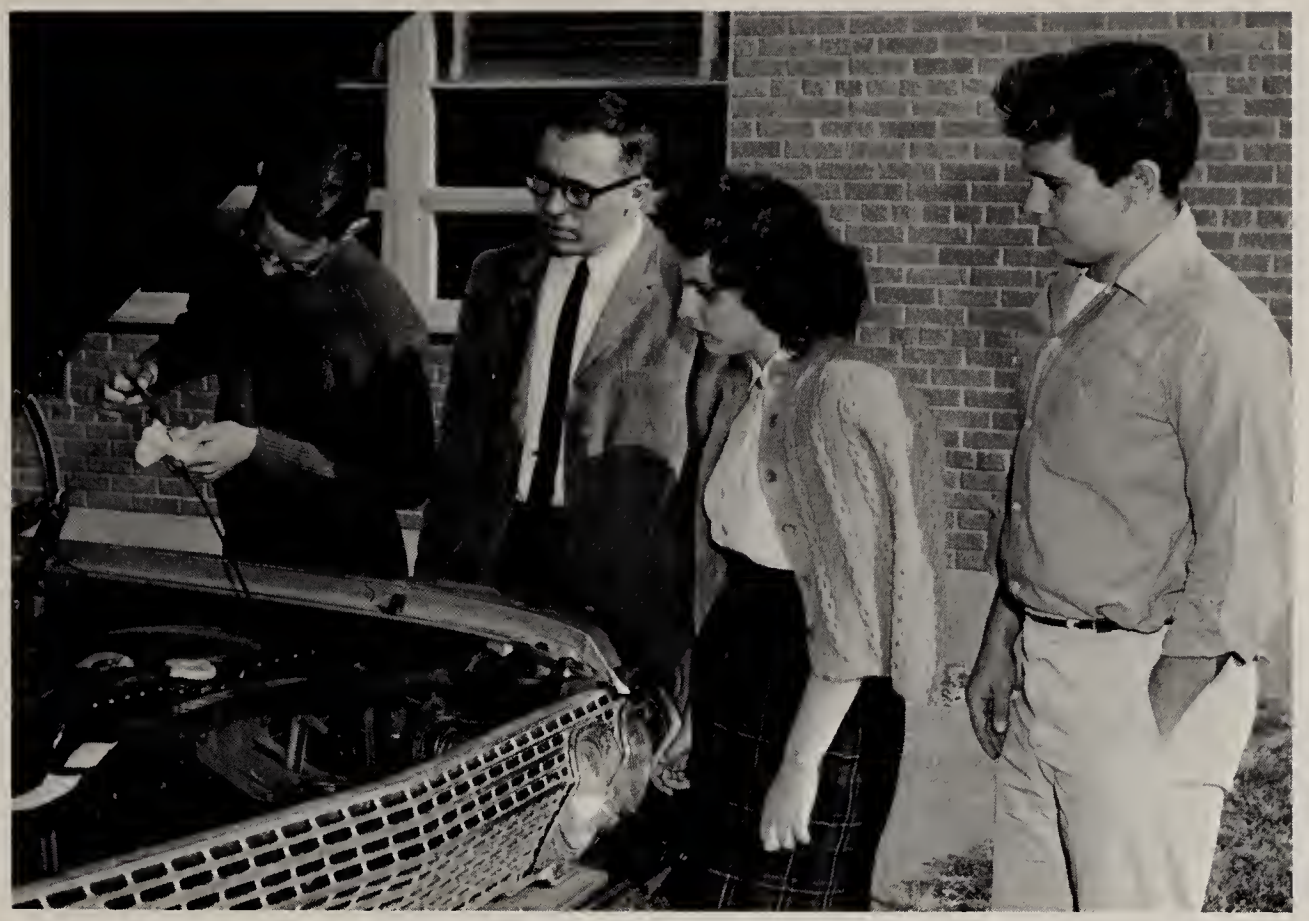
During the 62-63 school year Mrs. Nielsen taught 122 girls in home economics, cooking, sewing, child care, and home and wedding planning. Mr. Watson taught the better farming methods to 51 boys enrolled in vocational agriculture. In industrial arts, 85 boys learned from Mr. Collier mechanical drawing, woodworking, and welding.

CONSTRUCTING INDUSTRIAL ARTS pieces are Jim Hill, Vernon Hedington, and David Arnold.

EIGHTH GRADE girls make decorations from balloons during their art class.

Fine Arts Arouse Interest

JUNIOR HIGH boys exercise their vocal cords lead by Mr. Henkel in music class.



CHECKING THE OIL is Carl Meyers while Mr. Bryan, Priscilla Bowers, and Johnny Feliz observe him.

Health, Safety Are Stressed

Physical education exercises helped training seventh graders through sophomores in physical fitness. On alternate week days a health class was offered to sophomores. Mrs. Archbold taught girls; Mr. Honaker, the boys.

Safety was also a major part of schooling for many high school pupils. Mr. Bryan again instructed pupils in safe methods of driving technique.

BOYS IN AN afternoon physical educational class participate in rhythm exercises.

People

Whether they be of the administration, a teacher, janitor, bus driver, or student --all are Centralites. All deserve credit for the existence of Adams Central. It takes students to be taught, teachers to supply the knowledge, cooks to provide nourishment, janitors to keep our building clean, and bus drivers to transport each child to school.

As twelve years of fun and work drew to a close, the seniors realized that this had been by far their busiest year. In the early fall they sponsored a skating party to which they invited the junior high and high school. Selling magazines, concessions at ball games, and Christmas cards were a part of their salesmanship activities. But the climax of the year came when the seniors ordered their caps and gowns to end their reign at A.C.H.S.

Pupils Begin Musical Climb

Students begin their climb to senior band by first studying music with at least three primary band groups. Mr. Henkel instructs the first class of Beginners, Mr. Gerig leads the Intermediate Band, and Mr. Henkel, the Junior Band. These steps are considered important and necessary to both pupils and leaders. Instruments are provided by the school for students who do not wish to purchase their own; however, arrangements can be made for anyone to buy his equipment.

Central's Varsity Strives for Teamwork and Fair Play

PLEASANT MILLS was the opposing team that Steve Lehman was trying to help defeat by shooting in this picture.

WHAT DO THEY say? Time-outs are a mystery to many spectators who can't figure out what they talk about in the huddle.

Enthusiasm was the secret of the Pep Club this year. Two hundred members "raised the rafters" at the Central home-games. The Pep Club members wore outfits of white blouses or shirts, red skirts or trousers, and white gloves. The first team cheerleaders--Becky Collins, Carol Schwartz, and Judy Hirschy--dressed in all white outfits; the second team cheerleaders--Margaret Rowden and Judy Hakes--dressed in red skirts and white sweaters.

SECOND TEAM Cheerleaders: Margaret Rowden and Judy Hakes.

FIRST TEAM Cheerleader: Becky Collins.

FIRST TEAM Cheerleader: Carol Schwartz.

FIRST TEAM Cheerleader: Judy Hirschy.

To Everyone,

As editor of the 1963 Cen-trails, I would like to express my gratitude to all who helped make this yearbook possible. I would like to thank Mr. Shoup for his advice and leadership, the faculty for allowing such things as picture-taking to interrupt their classes, and the entire annual staff for the help they provided without complaint.

Sincerely,
Sylvia Miller
